

WORK OF CONGRESS NOW MAPPED OUT

TARIFF BILL CONSIDERATION TO CONTINUE.

The Republican Senators Are Said Not to Be in Accord on the Sugar Schedule—Mr. Pettigrew Will Offer His Anti-Trust Amendment—The House Will Adjourn.

Washington, June 7.—While the tariff will continue the general topic of discussion in the senate during the present week, there is no certainty as to what portion of it will receive special attention. This uncertainty is due largely to the difficulty of determining when the sugar schedule will be taken up. It is so generally understood that this schedule will consume considerable time that there is no effort to outline beyond it the course of proceeding. The wood schedule will afford a brief respite before reaching the sugar question, as that subject was left undisposed of when the senate adjourned on Saturday. Senator Allen probably will enter a motion to strike out the entire paragraph relating to sawed lumber and the motion may lead to other speeches than his own.

Whether the sugar schedule will be taken up in order is still undetermined. There are many differences of opinion on the subject, but the prevailing desire is to get the schedule out of the way as soon as possible. There is no doubt in any event of a postponement until Senator Aldrich's return to the senate. He is still confined to his room, but is expected to be out early in week.

That the Hawaiian treaty will be protected by the finance committee is considered settled, but a caucus may be necessary to determine whether other changes should be made. Senator Pettigrew has decided definitely to offer his anti-trust amendment in connection with this schedule, but beyond the fact that there is no certainty as to its course or its fate.

The house has no work ahead of it this week and it is the intention of the majority leaders to adjourn until Thursday, and from Thursday until Monday.

Mr. Simpson and other members of the minority doubtless will essay the usual maneuvers with the purpose of embarrassing the Republicans, but in the present condition of the house their latitude is narrow, and they easily can be overborne by their adversaries.

Further Violence Is Feared.

Columbus, Ohio, June 7.—Adjutant General Axline returned from Urbana Sunday, fearful that the return of either Sheriff McClain or Captain Leonard will precipitate another riot, with probable violence to them, so strong is the feeling against them. He received a letter from Captain Leonard, who is at Cincinnati, and afterward had telegraphic correspondence with him, as a result of which the captain will come here, and will probably be accompanied to Urbana by a detachment of state troops. No word has been heard from Sheriff McClain.

New Line Across Mexico.

Hermosilla, Sonora, Mexico, June 7.—It is currently reported here that concessions have been granted to people representing the Southern Pacific and the Panama Steamship Company to build a line across the republic from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific coast. Among those who were reported to be interested is Samuel Lessem of Denver, who negotiated the sale of the street car lines of the City of Mexico, with electricity franchises, for the sum of $6,000,000.

Satisfaction Felt in Havana.

Havana, June 7.—In political circles and among the Spanish general public, where a feeling of acute anxiety existed as to the outcome of the cabinet crisis in Madrid, keen satisfaction is expressed that Mr. Canovas has received fresh proof of confidence from the crown. La Gaceta (the official gazette) has published the text of the reforms recently promulgated by the queen regent in council.

Fatal Collision of Steamers.

London, June 7.—The steamers Bittern and Ystroom, both bound for Amsterdam, collided in the Thames early Sunday morning. The Ystroom foundered, two of her passengers being drowned. The remainder of her passengers and her crew were taken on board the Bittern, which was damaged. The Bittern's second officer and carpenter were drowned.

Sends $400,000 for Charity.

New York, June 7.—President Meyer S. Isaacs of the Baron de Hirsch fund said Sunday that he had received $400,000 from the Baroness de Hirsch during the last week. Wheat Suffers in Indiana.

Lagrange, Ind., June 7.—A violent rain and hailstorm raged Sunday afternoon and wheat suffered greatly from the hail. The falling temperature will probably affect all the growing crops.

MR. GAGE'S CURRENCY PLAN

Secretary of the Treasury Outlining a New Plan.

Washington, June 7.—Secretary Gage is preparing a financial measure, to be submitted to congress next winter. In pursuance of this plan he has sent out a letter to 200 leading bankers and merchants, inviting suggestions for placing the currency upon a "sound" basis. In his consultations he is confining himself to what are called sound money men.

In outline the scheme will embrace the gradual retirement of the greenbacks and the substitution of national bank notes therefor; allowing national banks to issue to the full limit instead of 90 per cent as now; reducing the tax on national bank circulation from 1 per cent to one-fourth of 1 per cent, and, as a sop to the silver sentiment, limiting the denominations of bank notes and all other paper money to $10 and substituting silver for all below $10. There will probably be a provision for branch banks, and there is a suggestion that state and municipal bonds may be issued as a basis for not to exceed 50 per cent of the note circulation.

Secretary Gage has, in fact, already commenced to carry out his scheme for retiring greenbacks as far as possible under the present law by locking up in the treasury greenbacks and treasury notes. These classes of notes have greatly increased since March 4, and on June 1 there was held in the treasury of both classes about $60,000,000.

THE SULTAN'S SLY SCHEME

Leaves Peace Negotiations in the Hands of Ministers.

London, June 7.—The correspondent of the Standard at Constantinople says: "Acting upon the advice of Izet Bey, the sultan is leaving the peace negotiations wholly in the hands of his ministers, thus evading personal responsibility and placing himself in a position to sacrifice them to popular indignation if necessary. The ottoman ambassador at St. Petersburg has informed the porte that Count Moravieff, the Russian foreign minister, told him he personally objected to Russian intervention on behalf of Greece and had counteracted the intrigues started with that object, but the holy synod induced the czar to intervene."

BIG YUKON RIVER PLANS

British Chartered Company to Operate in the Far North.

Seattle, Wash., June 7.—Eli A. Gage, manager of the North American Transportation and Trading company, is in Seattle on his way to the company's trading posts on the Yukon. He said that a chartered British company is proposing to operate on the Yukon on the same plan and scale as that of the famous chartered South African company. It proposes to build and govern towns, maintain a force of soldiers, operate mines, build steamships, etc. The company is admitted to have millions of money back of it.

Cloakmakers Threaten to Strike.

New York, June 7.—The United Brotherhood of Cloakmakers had a busy day Sunday. Secret meetings were held in the assembly rooms scattered throughout the east side to organize the 12,000 cloakmakers in New York and vicinity preliminary to a strike. Secretary Braff of the organization said that there are now 6,000 enrolled members in the union, and that in less than a week he expects all will have joined. There are about 4,000 organized women, who will be affected if the strike goes into effect on schedule time.

THREE FIREMEN DIE AND MANY HURT

FATALITY AT A BLAZE AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Brave Men Who Stay By a Wounded Comrade Crushed By Falling Walls The Bodies Recovered—Loss Will Not Exceed $100,000—Origin Was a Mystery.

San Francisco, Cal., June 7.—A fire in the southeastern part of the city at noon Sunday cost three firemen their lives and entailed a property loss of $100,000. The dead:

JOHN MAHONEY of chemical engine No. 6.

FRANK KELLER, steward of hose cart No. 2.

JAMES HALLINAN, driver of truck No. 1.

The fire started mysteriously in the four-story brick building owned by Schroth & Westerfield and leased to the Standard Biscuit company. Work in the factory ceased for the week at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and so far as known the only occupants of the building this morning were John Erwin, the bookkeeper, and W. Cook, the cashier, who were at work in the office.

It was soon apparent that the interior of the structure would be entirely destroyed. Adjacent to the brick factory was a row of old wooden buildings, including a branch of the salivary army barracks and the southern police station. The police station contained only three prisoners, but their appeals to be liberated caused intense excitement among the gathering crowds. They were transferred as quickly as possible to the central station.

Meanwhile floor after floor of the cracker factory fell in, rendering the walls unsafe. Then the east wall of the factory toppled over, and then a wavering sheet of flame spread over the area adjoining. A score of firemen were in a paint-shop, endeavoring from that spot to check the spread of the flames. A falling timber struck Fireman Mahoney on the leg, breaking it. He refused to allow his comrades to carry him away in their arms, insisting that he must be borne off on a shutter. All but two of the band of firemen ran to procure a shutter, and just as they left their injured comrade the last wall fell, burying beneath a mass of brick and mortar Mahoney and his faithful friends. The three bodies were recovered and sent away with police escort.

PACIFICOS ARE SLAUGHTERED

Eighteen Men Slain Near Guanabacoa, Cuba.

Key West, Fla., June 7.—At a place called Lafa, near Guanabacoa, Commander Fondesviela captured eighteen pacificos who were gathering mangoes. Fondesviela ordered the guerrilla force under his command to macthe the prisoners, which was done. The guerrillas of Santa Maria del Rosario found two boys of 7 and 8 years near town. One of the soldiers asked the boys if they were Cubans or Spaniards, and they answered that they were Cubans. The commander was so enraged that he had the boys killed at once.

The insurgents attacked the garrison of Catalina, in Havana province, killing nine soldiers and wounding Lieut. Victoriano Lopez and twelve soldiers.

CANOVAS WILL STAY IT IS NOW SAID

SPANIARDS HAVE CONFIDENCE IN THE PREMIER.

It Is Rumored That the Queen Regent Will Recall General Weyler From Cuba and Grant Many Reforms—De Lome Will Not Talk About the Matter.

Madrid, June 7.—The queen regent has confirmed Senor Canovas, the premier, in his ministerial powers, and the cabinet will remain in office with personnel and policy unchanged.

All the leading members of the senate and of the chamber of deputies who were consulted by her majesty, as well as three marshals, have advised the recall of Capt.-Gen. Weyler from Cuba. The queen's chief concern has been to know the opinion of all the statesmen and generals consulted on the advisability of the recall of Gen. Weyler, and whether a change of policy would be most likely to hasten the termination of the war. Spanish domestic politics has played second part in this crisis.

The whole drift of the interviews of the queen with Marshals Campos, Blanco and Lopez Dominguez and with Senors Padaz and Sagasta shows that all were unanimous in considering it necessary to have well-defined, concrete plans for carrying out Cuban home rule and for endeavoring to strengthen the cordial relations with the United States, and all believed the indispensable preliminary step to this the appointment of a new governor-general, who would inspire foreign countries and the Spanish colonies with confidence in the sincerity of the Spanish colonial policy.

WILL NOT TALK.

Ambassador De Lome Is Silent on the Subject.

Washington, June 7.—Spanish Minister Dupuy de Lome Sunday received a cablegram announcing the result of the queen's decision in the matter of the Spanish premier and cabinet ministers who recently tendered their resignations. Mr. de Lome declined to discuss the possibilities of the retention in office of the present ministry in relation to the policy to be pursued with regard to Cuban affairs and the incumbency of Capt.-Gen. Weyler.

Tariff Bill Worrying Japan.

Tacoma, Wash., June 7.—Japan is greatly worked up over the new American tariff. Conventions are being held and the government urged to adopt retaliatory measures. Advice received by steamer state that Count Okuma, minister for foreign affairs, has cabled the United States government at length, representing that the new tariff will result in serious injury to the present growing trade between Japan and the United States; that Japanese merchants and manufacturers are daily reminding him that Japan is at liberty to renounce the "most favored nation" clause of the treaty with this country and impose retaliatory duties. He ends by recommending that the proposed tariff amendments be reconsidered.

Pittsburg Strikers Promise Trouble.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 7.—Both sides of the strike at Jones & Laughlin's mills admit that there will be trouble when an attempt is made to start the big mill which has been idle for some days. Many new entrances to the mills, on different sides, including the river front, have been made. Hitherto the thousands of workmen at Jones & Laughlin's have always passed through the one great entrance on South Twenty-seventh street. The strikers are expected to mass at this point, and will no doubt make things warm for those who want to pass in that way, and the announcement that other entrances have been opened has created consternation in the ranks of the disgruntled.

May Trace Stolen Funds.

Lincoln Neb., June 7.—Notice has been served by Attorney General Smythe on Defaulting Treasurer Joseph Bartley to bring into court at Omaha Tuesday the various checks with which he drew money out of the Omaha National bank of that city during the months of April and December of last year. It was during this period the officer thinks that Bartley did most of his heavy stealing, and the attorney general thinks he may not only discover the defaulter's methods but probably recover some of the stolen funds. That is the bank in which he at one time had $200,000 of state funds. In this notice Mr. Smythe is merely laying the foundation for demanding that the books of the bank in question be brought into court, which can be done when Bartley refuses to produce the original checks.

REV. DR. A. CURTIS SPEAKS THE WORD

PREACHED AT THE COURT STREET CHURCH YESTERDAY.

Warm Welcome Was Extended to the Former Pastor, and His Sermon
Was Greatly Enjoyed—Will Remain Here About Six Weeks—Some Other Church News.

The familiar face and voice of an old pastor, Rev. Olin A. Curtis, greeted the audience at the Court Street
M. E. church, yesterday morning, and the occasion was crowded with sacred memories.

Dr. Curtis has lost none of his old time earnestness, and his sermon yesterday morning was a rare treat to the audience that comfortably filled the church.

His topic was "The Belief of The Heart," and his sermon was a clear exposition of the distinction between intellectual and heart belief. The heart is the center of volition, in a sense, the same as the City of New York is the commercial heart of the nation. A man may believe intellectually that scientific developments are true because of the evidences about him, while he may have no confidence in them. He may attempt to explain them, had he been absent from his country for a number of years, deprived of all means of knowledge concerning the improvements of the age, and a friend should meet him on an incoming steamer and tell him that by the X rays, sight could penetrate solid matter, he would believe the statement, not because of proof, but because of confidence in his friend. St. Paul in his epistle to the church at Rome, exhorts the early christian to have a belief in Christ, rather than an intellectual belief about him. This heart belief causes us to venture out upon him and then there comes to us the experience that comes to the little bird that flutters out of the nest into the sunlight and atmosphere that envelopes it, until finally as we apprehend him we are able to say with Paul
"I live, but not I, Christ liveth in me." While intellectual belief is helpful heart belief is vital to salvation.
It is possible for scientific faith to grasp in a sense, immortality. The scientist studies the stars, and makes an engagement with a comet to appear 700 years hence. Generations come and go, but at the appointed time the comet meets the engagement promptly. Christian faith alone establishes a sure foundation, and hope becomes a reality.

The sermon commanded close attention, and was full of hopeful thought.
Dr. Curtis will spend a part of his vacation in Janesville, and will preach Sunday mornings for the next six weeks, with the exception of next Sunday, when Dr. Halsey, the pastor, will have charge of the children's day service.

The Baptist Church.

A goodly congregation greeted Rev.
T. S. Soares of Rockford, at the Baptist church yesterday. His text was in 1st Cor. 6-2. Subject: "The saints judging the Earth."

We should remember, in all our business relations that we are God's children. The Jews were looking for a temporal kingdom, Christ used the thoughts of the times to illustrate the spiritual truth.

The judgment of the saints is in the spiritual world. We should live such lives that the world will have no right to judge us. They know nothing about the living, so the church must judge in spiritual matters.

Historically the church has been the judge in all spiritual matters. Until she got so worldly, she was rightly the judge of the world. Every historic injustice has been condemned by the true followers of Christ.

The loving, pure, true character of the saints judged the unkind, impure, unholy living of the world. The lives of our missionaries has done more than their preaching to convert the heathen.

The christian physician can and does preach wonderful sermons by his kind acts to the sick and afflicted.
The great question is do we will the saints judge the world? Will our lives condemn sin in all of its forms by the marked contrast between us and the world? It ought thus to be. It is not the judgment of criticism, but by life. "I criticise," said a painter, "by doing better work."

The true saint is the bible that the worldling reads. We cannot avoid it.
Talking will not do. The greatness of the past will not do. The times have changed. The influence of christianity has brought the world up to a high plane of living and if we would judge
the world, we must move onward that the great contrast may be seen. If we would accomplish our true mark we must know God better and live more like Jesus in our daily lives. We must have our hearts and lives filled with the holy spirit. We must know our Bibles better. We must know the power of prayer better. We must know and realize our great calling better and thus show forth the character and life of Christ and be able to judge the world.

The Y. P. S. C. E. was led by Miss Flora Dunwiddie the subject was
"The Tongue as a Christian Tool."

The Evening Service.

In the evening there was an unusually large attendance to hear Mr.
Soares. His text was in Gen. 28-17.
Subject, "Jacob's Bethel." Jacob was learning that the way of the transgressor is hard. He was now fleeing from justice. He dreamed of his father's God. God's consent was renewed with him. He begins to learn of the graciousness of God. He begins to realize that where need is, there God is. We forget this often. We think that we only need God when death is near. God is in all of our lives, ever ready to help us. There are times when there is a peculiar sense of the nearness of God. It ought to be thus all the time. Such a Bethel may be ours.

This means that we experience the pardoning love of God; sin has been forgiven and we rejoice. Why may we not feel this sense of forgiveness of sin every morning and each close of the day?

There is a Bethel in the crisis of life. This was the turning point in Jacob's life. He begins a new life.
At the brook Jabok he says that he has fulfilled the promises made here at Bethel. This shows that there is a divine direction in our lives. We may not have dreams or angels to guide us when these turning points in our lives.

In consecration there is a Bethel for each of us. If we lay our lives upon the altar after we realize that God has found us we shall find a Bethel in our giving. If we could see God and have the Bethel of consecration, all of our great problems of the individual and the church would be solved.
Again, we sometimes learn to see God at the Bethel of sorrow. Sometimes we need trouble to help us to see God. We feel then that we need something that we have not. May the sorrows of life bring us where we may sing "Nearer to Thee."

We may meet God everywhere. In business, and in all places and at all times. We may have our Bethel at any time. If we realize that Jesus is with us all the time we will do our best. Thank God there is a Bethel of the common life, Jesus with us all the time.

Christ Episcopal Church.

Yesterday, Whitsunday, the birthday of the church, the day upon which the apostles were baptized with the Holy Ghost and with fire, was duly observed at Christ church. It was also the annual commemoration by the members of the parish of the day upon which they received the Holy Ghost by the laying on of hands and were admitted to the blessed sacrament of the body and blood of Christ. The rector spoke from the text "Behold are not all those who speak Galileans?" He dwelt upon the effect of the outpouring of the spirit upon men. The apostles though earnest and sincere, were looked down upon as obscure and unlearned Galileans, mostly fishermen. What they afterwards became was due not to their own inherent power or ability, but to the gift of the Holy Ghost.
This same sanctifying agent is needed by all mankind today. If they would live Godly and righteously in this present world, the strength which we all need to successfully resist temptation, and the power that we must have to develop a life of holiness, is obtained through the indwelling spirit. God has chosen special ways,
by which to convey special blessings.
And the Holy Spirit first bestowed upon the apostles in a miraculous manner is now bestowed upon the deciples of the Lords through the laying on of hands, recognizing therefore the power of the holy spirit within us,
and what he does in sanctify-ing all the people of God. We rejoice in the privilege of an annual commemoration of the time when we received that inestimable gift. The offering which was for the altar was over ninety dollars.

Presbyterian Church.

At the Presbyterian church yesterday morning Rev. E. H. Pence spoke to a large audience. His theme was "Christian gratitude." The sermon was followed by the reception of new members, twenty being received into the church at this time. After this service the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered.

In the afternoon, a meeting was held for the election of elders which resulted in the election of Mr. James Sherer, Mr. James Mount, Mr. A. A.
Jackson, Mr. J. M. Shackleton and Dr. James Mills.

The evening sermon was a very practical one. The subject being "What am I to do for my Generation?"
Lessons were drawn from the lives of David and Paul, and it was demonstrated how much larger opportunities
we have in the present time for serving our generation.

The annual meeting of the church will be held in the lecture room of the church this evening. Light refreshments will be served and every member of the church and congregation is cordially invited to be present.

LOCAL RIDERS MADE FAST CENTURY RUN

O. SUTHERLAND AND J. G. DE-LONG HOLD RECORD.

Covered One Hundred and Four Miles
In Seven Hours and Twenty Minutes, Riding From Janesville to Belvidere, Illinois, and Return—Some Other Cycling Gossip.

A CENTURY run was made yesterday by Orion Sutherland and J. G.
De Long that will probably hold the record as far as local riders are concerned. Their actual riding time for a distance of 104 miles was seven hours and twenty minutes. At 4:40 o'clock yesterday morning they left for Belvidere, Ill. The route selected was via Beloit and Rockford, and the run to the Forest City, a distance of thirty-two miles was made in two hours and four minutes. From there they pushed on to Belvidere, making their first fifty miles in three hours and twenty-four minutes. On the return trip the wind was against them and they could not make as good time. They arrived home in the early part of the afternoon.

MEMBERS of the Rockford Cycling club rode to Beloit yesterday. They will make a trip to the Bower City
the latter part of this month.

It is estimated that fully fifty cyclers from Beloit rode the "prairie road" yesterday from one city to the other.

JAMES HOGAN's bicycle was not stolen. Two of his friends took it as a joke and returned it the next day.

CHAS. DEXHAMER, William Fallon
and Chas. Fenton, all well known Beloit cyclists were in town yesterday.

ALEX. ANDERSON, Richard Carlson and Alfred Carlson were up on wheels
from the Forest City to spend Sunday.

E. V. WHITON, Jr., made a trip to Beloit and spent the day taking snap shots with his camera in that vicinity.

THOMAS BROWN, a Line City grocery-man who weighs 200 pounds, rode a bicycle to this city yesterday.

CAPELL brothers, on their yellow tandem, rode to the Line City in less than an hour yesterday.

A LARGE number of the local cyclers made the trip to the up river resorts yesterday afternoon.

LOU VAN WART, one of Evansville's fastest riders, made the trip here on his bike yesterday.

EDWIN TAYLOR, Daniel Ennis, Arthur Bennett and Clinton Case rode to Beloit.

CHARLES CARLSON and Otto Dahlgren
rode up from Rockford yesterday on a tandem.

At one time yesterday there were six tandem teams from other places in this city.

CLARENCE SPEARS selected Whitewater as his cycle route yesterday.

T. J. ANDERSON, B. L. Watt and C.
W. Bliss made a trip to Beloit.

J. VANFELT and Thomas Welch rode up from Beloit yesterday.

H. H. MCKINNEY made the trip to Clear lake.

ELMER GROVE pumped his bike to

GET CHEAPER TELEPHONES

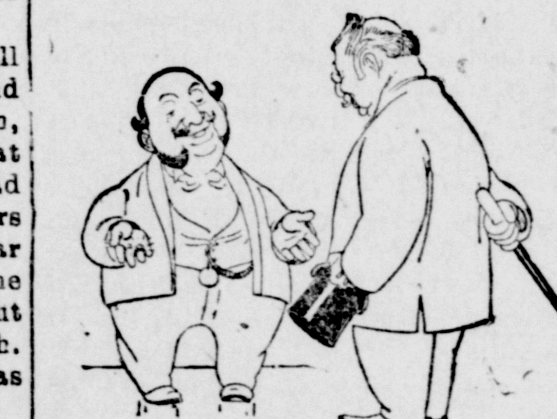

A One Way Service to be Extended
Soon, It Is Said.

The Wisconsin Telephone company is about to introduce a telephone enabling customers to call up other telephone subscribers without the aid of the central office. With the introduction of the new apparatus the rates will be lowered one half so that persons may have the use of a telephone for $1.50 a month. The arrangement will be that four subscribers constitute a circuit. When one of them is using the line, the others are barred. A tablet with the inscription "Line Busy" will show itself, and the mechanism which moves the tablet will also prevent the subscriber listening to the conversation of the other. The subscribers in addition, may call up any other subscriber, but no one can communicate with him without getting connected at the central office. The telephone is more for emergency purposes than for business, and for five cents day many walks can be saved.

We would rather make one Piano a year with

ABOUT CYCLE ORDINANCE

Editorial From "Bearings" Sums the Matter Up.

The following editorial taken from "Bearings" will be of interest, now that the city council will pass upon the bicycle ordinance at the next meeting:

"The problem of how to reduce the number of accidents on the thoroughfares of our municipalities now confronts the administrators with greater gravity than ever before. All sorts of remedial measures are proposed from time to time in the various cities throughout the land. Most of these are useless, many are absurd, others are unconstitutional, and a few—a very few—are effective. The lamp ordinance is a good one; the only objection to it being that it is too restricted. The bell ordinance is looked upon with slight favor by experienced wheelmen, who believe that the sudden alarm of a bicycle bell is so disconcerting that the wronging it is intended to give only serves to create confusion and multiply accidents. The principle of the speed laws is excellent, but as a rule the regulations are enforced with difficulty which permits the growth of abuses. Most of the speed ordinances, though operative, are inefficient, since the majority of bicycle riders in most of the cities and many of the drivers of horses capable of the feat exceed the limit of four, six, eight or ten miles, as the case may be. Twelve miles an hour is not an excessive or dangerous speed even on crowded thoroughfares for capable riders and drivers.

"The majority of accidents in the cities are the result of the inexperience of bicycle riders and the carelessness of the drivers of horses. In Germany and in some of the other European countries this fact is recognized, and before a new bicycle rider is allowed to go out upon the public highways, he or she is required to give an exhibition of proficiency before duly appointed examiners. This works no hardships upon the novice, but is a restriction imposed for his own protection and the good of others. It eliminates that element of uncertainty and confusion which is the most fruitful source of disaster. Every able wheelman knows the dangers arising from the erratic movements of the novice and he dreads the beginner on the festive wheel more than a troop of equestrians on high-spirited horses or a frolicsome dog.

"It would be a wise move on the part of some of the common councils of the larger American cities if they would substitute a similar regulation for the absurd ordinances requiring the ringing of bells and the turning of corners at a maximum speed of four miles an hour. Let them adopt an ordinance under the comprehensive authority of police regulations which shall prohibit learners on the bicycle from going upon much frequented streets, and especially boulevards and park drives, until a corps of capable judges has declared them sufficiently versed in the fine art of riding it safe for themselves and for others. We venture to assert that this would obviate much of the present trouble, which is universally admitted to require attention, and would appreciably reduce the number of street accidents."

Light Overcoat Weather.

If you had a light overcoat, wouldn't you wear it these cool June evenings? As a matter of fact, wouldn't a light overcoat be a handy thing to have about ten months out of twelve? We show a line at prices ranging from $7 to $20 that have one point in common—they are all big value. T. J. Zeigler.

Trim Up the Trees.

The city marshal calls the attention of property owners to the ordinance requiring that all trees in front of lots be trimmed to a height of not less than ten feet from the ground. The penalty for neglecting to comply with this ordinance is not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars. The trees along the sidewalks generally throughout the city are not cared for as required by this ordinance, and complaints will be made by the city marshal if they are not properly trimmed at once.

WOULD LIKE

To Claim the Benefit If True.

A gentleman stated that he had a gentle running off at the bowels shortly after leaving off coffee and starting in the use of Postum Cereal. The makers would not object to claiming so desirable a feature for Postum Cereal Food Coffee, if the claim could be sustained, for there is nothing will do an old coffee drinker so much good as a free action of that sort.

But unfortunately Postum cannot be depended upon to produce this result, as it is composed only of grains, and has no effect except as a very nourishing liquid food.

The fact is that coffee tends to congest the liver and prevent its free working.

Therefore, if a coffee drinker will quit the use of it, frequently the congestion will be relieved and the accumulation of bile will pass off and clean out the bowels. Then continue the use of Postum and kept well. It is a pure food-drink and is nourishing and fattening. A pkg. can be had post-paid for 25c of the Cereal Co., (Lim.) Battle Creek, Mich.

Wily grocers sometimes work in cheap imitations of Postum Cereal Food Coffee, if the customer will stand it, B. & O. SUMMER BOOK.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has just issued a very handsome book for summer travel, describing the mountain resorts, springs and baths located on and adjacent to its line; also the various watering places on the Atlantic Coast. The routes for reaching them are set forth in a comprehensive and clear manner. The book is printed on fine paper, beautifully illustrated and will prove of valuable assistance to parties contemplating a summer tour.

The round trip from Chicago will be $11, and correspondingly low rates from all other points. Tickets will also be sold from all coupon stations throughout the West and Northwest.

Solid Vestibled Express trains, with Pullman Sleeping cars attached, leave the Grand Central Station 3:30 and 7 p. m. daily.

Harpers' Magazine.

The July number of Harper's Magazine will contain several notable features, including the last chapters of fiction that Du Maurier wrote, which bring "The Martian" to a close; a paper by W. D. Howells on "The Modern American Mood," and the first installment of "The Kentuckians," a novel by John Fox, Jr. Among the illustrations there will be several by Du Maurier in an unfinished state, giving an interesting revelation of the artist's methods.

For N. E. A. Convention, Milwaukee, July 6-9, the North-Western line will sell excursion tickets at exceedingly low rates, plus membership fee in the association. For dates of sale and other information apply to agents Chicago & North-Western R'y.

GRAND EXCURSION TO COAST.

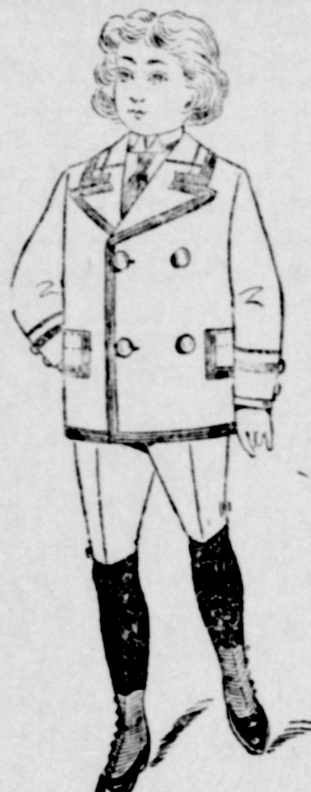

Through Scenic Colorado and Utah to San Francisco on June 29.

There is nothing too good for the Christian Endeavor people and their friends who will accompany them to the National convention to be held at San Francisco from July 7 to 12, as is evidenced in the excellent service and especially attractive routing afforded all those who are to take advantage of the through service from Janesville on June 29. On that date, at 6:30 p. m., the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y. will send out on their coastwise tour two large, modern sleepers, which will take the following course: To Omaha. From Omaha to Denver over the "Burlington Route." From Denver over the picturesque Rio Grande Route to Colorado Springs, with a stop from 12 noon to 3 p. m., to permit a visit to Manitou and "the Garden of the Gods" thence to Pueblo with a stop from 9 p. m. to 7 a. m., thence to Leadville, one hour stop, thence to Glenwood Springs with stop from 6 p. m. to 9 a. m., thence to Salt Lake City with stop from 8 a. m. Saturday to 12:01 a. m. Monday, arriving at San Francisco 9 a. m. Tuesday, July 6. The one way fare will be $25.40 and the sleeping car one way $7.50. Rates for return trip will be same as the outward trip. The final limit for return will be August 15. Early applications for sleeping car reservation ensures good location, therefore it is especially requested that any who desire to use the above choice routing and service should call at the ticket office of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway as soon as possible and secure location.

One of our prize $5 suits for boys is made of the dark blue cheviot finished serge which from long experience with its wearing qualities we have found so desirable, being ab-

Because the material is undesirable and will not give satisfaction;
Or because it is cheaply made up in unwholesome prices—perhaps;
Or the trimming are not first class;
Or for some other reason to be found in the poorer quality of goods.

that women will wonder at, one of these days. They won't understand what the woman is doing. Even now it looks queer to the users of Pearline to see a woman doubling herself up over a wash-tub.

This old-fashioned, back-breaking way of washing clothes by rubbing them to pieces over a wash-board can't last. It isn't sensible. The way that is surely taking its place—the easiest, quickest, most economical way—is washing with Pearline. No soap with it—that's entirely needless—nothing but Pearline.

Millions use Pearline

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundry-dyeing. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.

ALMOST BEYOND RELIEF.

Marvelous Success in Curing the Sick by X-Rays.

It is wonderful how the patients flock to the office of Dr. Melville, the celebrated specialist in chronic diseases. We suppose it is because she has had such good success in cases which she treats. She has made diseases and their causes a study for life, and is thoroughly qualified to treat the most difficult cases. From what we can learn the doctor justly merits her success.

DR. MELVILLE CURES HER CASES.

Cures Tumor After Surgical Operations Failed.

LAKE GEORGE, October 2.

Dear Dr. Melville: This will come to you unexpected, as it is unsolicited. For fifteen years I have been afflicted with the tumor for which you so successfully treated me. Skilled surgeons failed to remove it, yet your treatment absorbed it in a most marvelous way and with great rapidity. For the good of others who may be suffering from tumor, I ask you not only to show this letter but to let the public see it by the medium of any local paper you desire to hand it to for publication. I am absolutely feeling perfectly well. I wish to urge anyone suffering from a like trouble to go to you for treatment. For their own suffering body's sake I urge it. If any doubt arises in the mind of any one who reads this I ask them to see me or write me regarding my case. I am sure God is using you as a blessing to suffering humanity and to the glory of His own name, for He wants healthy bodies as well as souls to serve Him. Gratefully yours, MISS E. M. WELCH.

Believed Catarrh Could Not Be Cured.

D. K. Somerton, a well known farmer near Janesville, says:

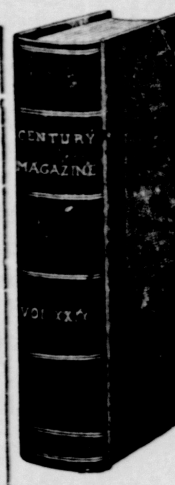

"I had catarrh of the head, throat and ears in its worst form, and, after taking medicine for years, concluded there was no cure, but Dr. Dr. Melville examined me more thoroughly than anyone else and cured me. I now believe she can cure any case of catarrh."

The above are only random cures. If you wish to be among the cured, call, as Dr. Melville's time is limited. Now, my friends, do not be prejudiced, this may be your opportunity. No matter how long you have been sick; no matter how many doctors have treated you; no matter how much medicine you have taken; no matter what name has been given your disease; call at my office and learn something of my new, improved, common sense, rational and scientific methods of treating diseases.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

- 1820—Robert Bruce, king of Scotland, died, born 1274.
1765—First American congress called by vote of Massachusetts assembly.
1776—Richard Henry Lee, in the continental congress, offered resolutions declaring the colonies independent.
1871—Brigadier General Thomas J. Rodman, inventor of the Rodman gun, died at Rock Island; born 1815.
1880—John Brougham, Irish actor and author, died; born 1810.
1886—Richard March Hoe, American press inventor, died in Florence; born in New York city 1812.
1893—Edwin Booth, the tragedian, died in New York city; born 1833.
1894—Professor William Dwight Whitney, eminent philologist of Yale college, died in New Haven; born 1827. Rodman McCauley Price, ex-governor of New Jersey and a California pioneer, died at Hazelwood, N. J.; born 1816.

There has never been any probability that congress would abrogate the reciprocity treaty with Hawaii simply because the sentiment of this country is known to be averse to such action towards the little island republic.

Gen. Weyler ought to have sense enough to know that allowing one of his newspaper organs to indirectly blackguard Mr. Calhoun is not a good way to add to the few friends Spain has in the United States.

There seems to be no probability that Janesville ever will follow any other course than to hire as many inexperienced teachers as possible each year, in order to train them for service in other cities.

You can't always judge a man's nature by where he lives. Two young men, residents of Sweet Home, Texas, killed each other in fight with revolvers the other day.

ENTERTAINED YOUNG FOLKS.

Pleasant Double Birthday Celebration at Conductor Devin's Home.

It was a merry gathering of young folks that assembled Saturday afternoon at the Lion street home of Conductor and Mrs. George H. Devins. The event was in honor of the twelfth anniversary of the birth of their daughter Bessie, as well as the tenth anniversary of the birth of their son John. Refreshments were served and many handsome gifts were left for the host and hostess in order that they may remember the pleasant event for many years to come. Among those present were:

Deal Gently With the Stomach.

If it proves refractory, mild discipline is the thing to set it right. Not all the nauseous draughts and boluses ever invented can do half as much to remedy its disorders as a few wine-glassfuls—say, three a day—of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will afford it speedy relief, and eventually banish every dyspeptic and bilious symptom. Sick headache, nervousness, sallowness of the complexion, fur upon the tongue, vertigo, and those many indescribable and disagreeable sensations caused by indigestion, are too often perpetuated by injudicious dosing. An immediate abandonment of such random and ill advised experiments should be the first step in the direction of a cure; the next step the use of this standard tonic alterative, which has received the highest medical sanction and won unprecedented popularity.

BOWER CITY MEN WIN PRIZES

J. T. Wright and E. G. Fifield Write For the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Two Janesville men won prizes in the Milwaukee Sentinel's historical contest. J. T. Wright was awarded ninth place and E. G. Fifield fifteenth prize. Mr. Wright wrote of "During The Early Sixties." His article was as follows:

"One of the bright clergymen of Southern Wisconsin was the Rev. M. P. Kinney. He was born in Portland, N. Y., in 1814, a graduate of Homer Academy and afterward a teacher there. He studied law in Auburn, N. Y., and came to Southport (now Kenosha) where he practiced, but soon gave it up for the ministry, going to Lane Seminary for preparation. In 1844 was ordained by the Milwaukee convention of Congregational ministers at Kenosha where he remained only a short time. He afterwards went to Whitewater, Racine and Janesville.

"While living at Racine he built a home which was rented when coming to Janesville. One day he called upon the writer in trouble, which he explained about as follows: 'I have just learned that my house in Racine burned last night. I am here to get from you a little more nerve power. I want my spinal column stiffened to break the news to Mrs. Kinney. I can endure anything'—referring to his hardships in getting an education, sweeping the school room for tuition, and sawing wood for his board. 'The worst of all is, everyone will ask if it was insured. Some will say, why did you not insure? After a few moments of self accusation, the safety valve of humor came to his relief. Turning with a complacent look, he said: 'I supposed it was fire proof. I rented it to a Universalist minister.' Happy thought! It soon caught up with the report on the street of the loss. We were both laughing. He left for his mission, while the writer and others resolved to try and partly make up the loss. The following evening a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Kinney in one of the public halls. During the evening J. B. Cassaday, now of the supreme court, after a few words expressing sympathy, presented them with a purse containing $500 in gold. Like many another his wit saved him."

Mr. Fifield wrote of "Pioneer Hotel Accommodations," as follows:

"An anecdote was told me over fifty years ago by Mrs. Benjamin Wade of Millford, Jefferson county. It was a talk between an Eastern lady traveling West in those early days and Mrs. Gov. Doty. They met at a hotel such as we had in those early days. The Eastern lady was complaining bitterly about the hotel accommodations. Mrs. Doty tried to soften her down a little, telling her the country was very new, destitute of markets and the accommodations were as good as one could expect under all the circumstances. Mrs. Doty then told her of some of her own experiences. She said that she and the governor were living at Doty's island and as he had to make trips to Madison, she made the trip with him on Indian ponies. They took along Indian blankets and something to eat and ropes to picket out the ponies at night, as they had to camp out one night on the trip. On one of these nights they came to a log shanty with two bachelors occupying the it. They got permission to stay over night here. There was no lumber to be had to make a partition, so they hung up an Indian blanket. They had marsh hay to sleep on and blankets to spread over it, and were enjoying their rest and sleep when a hog that was running about roared the blanket door aside and gave a loud grunt and woke them up. That was repeated several times during the night. With the exception of that slight annoyance she said she and the governor had a very good night's rest. The Eastern lady concluded she had not seen all there was to be seen in pioneer life."

Great Cloudburst in France.

Paris, June 7.—A cloudburst in the hill country of this province of Isere, in southeastern France, has caused the overflow of the river Morge and the destruction of a number of paper mills and silk factories, as well as houses along the banks. At the towns of Volron and Moirans, the river rose suddenly twenty feet. One person was drowned and the loss to property is estimated at 10,000,000 francs. Four thousand factory operatives are thrown out of employment.

BADGERS DEFEAT THE STARS.

Good Game of Ball Played on Snipe Hill Yesterday

A big crowd of people witnessed a ball game at Snipe hill yesterday afternoon, and the contest was interesting. The Badgers defeating the Monterey Stars by a score of 7 to 5. Umpire George Halverson called "play ball" at 3:15 o'clock. The Stars went to bat first, but Pitcher Aiken mystified them, and the side retired. The same treatment was then accorded the Badgers, for Pitcher Steed was at his best. In the second inning the batting was more lively and both teams managed to make a run. Both the third and fourth inning were notable for brilliant plays on the part of the fielders and not a run was made by either team. In the fifth and sixth inning the Stars were a little wild and made no runs, while the Badgers had the pleasure of seeing four of their men cross the plate. In the seventh inning both sides scored a run. Both teams made their appearance in the eighth confident of success. The Stars received a new lease of life in this inning. Numerous well placed hits resulted in their scoring three times, while the Badgers only tallied one. In the first half of the ninth, M. Sullivan was put in the box for the Badgers. He was batted freely, but the fielders played well and brought the game to a sudden close. Score: Badgers 7; Monterey Stars 5.

The features of the game were the good work of both pitchers; a three-base hit by Sullivan; and a double play by Maxwell and A. Hager, of the Stars. George Croft acted in the capacity of score-keeper. The teams played as follows:

BADGERS.	Position.	STARS.
Bugs	C.	Steed
Aiken	P.	F. Hager

T. Sullivan	1b.	M. Sullivan
M. Sullivan	2b.	Bergstrom

Gas House Stars Won

The Newboys and the Gas House Stars crossed bats on Goose Island Sunday. The score at the end of the ninth inning stood 25 to 8 in favor of the Gas House Stars. The features of the game were Richter's, of the Stars, batting, and Knipschield's pitching. The teams played as follows:

Stars.	Position.	Newboys.
Glennon	Catcher	Collins
Knipschield	Pitcher	Riley
Rooney	1b.	Bergstrom
Richter	2b.	Daverson

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Dipsase, Aspetic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

ODD WORDS USED BY THE SYRIAMS

ASSAULT AND BATTERY CASE IS ON TRIAL.

Judge Phelps and The Lawyers Seek to Separate the Wheat From The Chaff In Rather Verigated Testimony—Mr. Hennessey Had to Have a Name of Some Kind.

The Syriams "had it out" in the municipal court this morning.

They talked, and moved their arms, and said things that even Sheriff Acheson, with his wide knowledge of the language, couldn't understand.

Mr. Kary, the battered party, was the first witness. Kary rents the residence in which the interested parties live, and sub-rents a portion of the house to Frank Schillat, the defendant. Kary swore that Schillat invaded his part of the residence, and asked Mrs. Kary if it was true that she had said that a relative of his, in Chicago, "did not make a living."

When Mrs. Kary answered him, Kary said, Schillat declared that she was a blank fool and a liar. Then, Kary said, he put his hand on Schillat's arm, and ordered him into his own part of the house. Schillat did not go, but instead, Kary said, smote the witness heavily and swore in both Syrian and United States language. Kary war not much hurt, but gave the court to understand that while he bore no marks, that his head had bothered him greatly; that he became excited easily; and that he had been obliged to slight his peddling in consequence.

Say Schillat Made Threats

Kary also said that Schillat had made the threat that if Kary "got him into jail" he would "fix" Kary. All this testimony was secured under difficulties. Kary could talk English but he wanted to tell the court all about his relatives and their families. When he would get excited he used language that would test the capacity of a phonograph and Miss Norris, the court stenographer had a difficult job in taking the testimony. One point that Kary emphasized was the fact that "God was above and that he would see that justice was done." He also created the impression that much blood was spilled in his house on the day of the fight. The witness was very much excited and the attorneys and the court had much difficulty in keeping him cool. Finally Attorney Richardson lost patience and told him to keep still. "You don't say shut me up!" declared Kary angrily as he jumped to his feet.

Some of the interested parties are brothers-in-law, but just who, could not be decided from the evidence.

Hennessey Was There

Ellis Rewook was also a witness. Rewook is a brother-in-law of some of the people interested, or else he boards with some of them, and he could talk English to some extent.

Finally another witness was called, his name being Hennessey.

"Whose brother-in-law are you," asked the court, as a troubled look came over his face.

"Mr. Hennessey, Your Honor," said Attorney Richardson, "is nobody's brother-in-law, but we had to find a name for him."

And so it went.

The matter is being tried by the court, and at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the testimony had become quite complicated. Up to that hour, no conclusion had been reached, and the few words of English that the Syriams could use, had become sadly frayed about the edges. S. M. Smith appeared for Kary and M. P. Richardson, for the defense. The case drew a crowd, and was very amusing to the spectators.

NIGHT THUGS WORK AT ANOTHER HOUSE

PROWLERS VISIT H. D. M'KINNEY'S HOME.

Got Into the Cellar, But Were Frightened Away Before They Could Force Another Door—James Clark Jailed On Robbery Charge—Cycling Policeman Caught Jack Hess

Night prowlers are still giving their attention to Third ward dwellings. Saturday evening they made an unsuccessful attempt to enter H. D. McKinney's residence at the corner of Court and Division streets, but were frightened away before they had accomplished their purpose. They gained an entrance by entering the cellar, after which they tried to force one of the doors open that leads into the house. Marks made by a blunt instrument along the entire length of the door gave evidence of the attempt to break in. The police are looking for the culprits, and think they know about where to look.

James Clark Arrested.

Charged with larceny from the person, James Clark is now lodged in jail. Mrs. Caldwell of the town of Rock, alleges that Clark robbed her of two dollars. The complaint has been in the hands of Chief Hogan for several days, but the whereabouts of Clark were unknown to the officers until last Saturday, when word reached the police that the man they wanted was asleep near the ice house. When arrested, Clark seemed surprised, but finally weakened. In the complaint Mrs. Caldwell says that the prisoner struck her in the face. Clark is not a new man to the police. For years he has been a resident of this city, having been born and raised here.

Jack Hess Still Here

Jack Hess and his comrades are still in the county jail and the word with them has been mum whenever the conversation turns to burglaries. As yet no word has been received from the Spring Prairie merchants whose store they are accused of robbing. The stolen property is now in the Line City in possession of the officers. Hess and his comrades were arrested by Officer Whipple, of Beloit. Whipple is a watchman and was making his rounds on a wheel when he saw the men. By means of his bicycle he ran them down thus demonstrating a bike is a great help to a policeman.

THE END OF EARTH'S CARES.

Funeral of William McGee.

One hundred and twenty railroad men attended, in a body, the funeral of the late William McGee which was held from the home 210 Center avenue at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Most of them being members of the following societies, all of which attended as organizations: Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Rev. H. W. Thompson, of the First M. E. church officiated, and the interment was in Oak Hill cemetery. As the funeral procession moved along Center avenue it passed the old locomotive in which Engineer McGee had passed many days. The engine was draped in mourning in respect to the deceased engineer. The pall bearers were selected among the oldest engineers in the service on this division and included Alex. McNaughton, Stephen Hotelling, John Tripp, John Nelson, John Crowley and John Burns.

John Smith.

John Smith died yesterday at 2 p. m. at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Brandt, of the town of La Prairie. The cause of his death was consumption, with which disease he has been ill a year. Mr. Smith was employed in this city by T. P. Burns as a clerk, and recently made a trip to New Mexico for the benefit of his health. The remains were shipped to Johnson's Creek this noon where they will be interred tomorrow.

THE POLICY HOLDERS TO TALK OF RATES

MEETING OF THE JANESVILLE ASSOCIATION.

Mayor Thoroughgood Offers the Use of the Council Chamber For Wednesday Evening—The Purposes of the Association Outlined to Business Men By Secretary Ingalls.

The organization of a Janesville branch of the Fire Insurance Policy-Holders' Association is being pushed vigorously. A canvass this morning resulted in identifying heavy property holders with the movement. Mayor Thoroughgood was consulted and offered the use of the council chamber for a citizens' meeting Wednesday evening. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock and there will be a thorough discussion of the insurance question. The Policy-Holders' Association has for its mission the consideration of fire insurance matters, the lessening of fire waste and the reduction of insurance rates.

"One of the purposes of the meeting Wednesday evening," said Secretary Ingalls today, "is to afford a chance for a thorough discussion of the whole question, in order that a complete understanding of high rates may be had. The society is at work along this line constantly, and the results of its work are given in the Policy-Holder, our monthly journal which is sent free to every member for one year."

KOHLHOFF BEFORE COURT

Janesville Man Is Having a Hearing at Rockford Today.

Frank Kohloff will have a hearing in the Rockford court today. He admits having sold the bad meat, but excuses himself on the ground that he did not know it was in as bad condition as it really was.

"You told the farmer you bought it of you were going to take it home and have it boiled into grease, didn't you?" he was asked.

"Yes," answered the German, "but when I got the hide off I thought it looked too good to use in that way. Why, I ate some of it myself."

When pressed as to what portion of the animal he ate he said it was a piece from the head, well knowing that the carcass sold to Anderson had not been cut from.

Overcome the Opposition.

Nature may move along the line of the least resistance, but not so with women. Statistics show that the increase in the professions most opposed by men for women has been greater in proportion than in any other avenues. Ten years ago there were 67 women clergymen in the United States; today there are not less than 1,143 pulpits filled by women. It is the opposition that has done it. Women architects are applauded and encouraged, but there has been an increase in their number of only 21 in the last decade. Women lawyers are innovations to which we are not yet quite accustomed, but there are 40 times as many now as there were ten years back. When it comes to veterinary surgeons, there has never been a breath to deter her from entering this field. Nine people out of ten would speed her on her way with a blessing if she so declared her intention, but in the length and breadth of this great country there are only two women members of this profession. Teachers show a great gain to their ranks. Teaching is almost their birthright, so that is not remarkable, but trust a proscribed occupation or profession to gain women converts, eager to swell its ranks. Look at the accumulation of women barbers!—Chicago Post.

Tight Shoes No Longer Asked For.

According to the trade papers of the bootmakers, the smallest sizes of ladies' boots and shoes are becoming less and less asked for. The eager participation in outdoor sports and recreations which has become a part of the daily routine of the modern woman's life doubtless accounts in a large measure for this partial disappearance of very small shoes. A tight shoe was not altogether incompatible with the slow, short stroll in the open air that at one time sufficed, although the ordeal was somewhat painful. Now nothing but easy, well fitting footwear is possible in the eight mile walk, on the golf links, or the bicycle. Although the cramped foot incased in the diminutive pointed shoe is disappearing, there is no reason why the foot and its covering should lose that daintiness which so well becomes a woman. Possibly those X rays have also something to do with it, for the queen of Portugal has been startling the ladies of her court by showing them their translucent selves distorted by the compression of tight corsets.—St. James Gazette.

Bleaching Your Last Year's Hats.

There is so very little apparent difference between straw hats and bonnets of last season and those that are prepared for the coming summer that those that were in use last year might well be utilized again if they were restored to freshness by a little attention. A white straw, for instance, should be well brushed and the stiffening wire removed. Then wash it over with a white soap and cold water, dip in more clear water and allow it to dry in the air. When dry, it should be sponged over with the white of an egg well beaten up. This will make the straw taut, and also complete the cleansing process. A large brimmed hat should be left to dry upon a flat surface; otherwise the brim is liable to be bent out of its right shape. To bleach straw wash and scrub it in soft water and then put the article in a box together with a receptacle containing burning sulphur. The box must be covered to localize the fumes of the sulphur, which will be found a successful bleaching agent.—New York Journal.

Poisoned Dress Linings.

Some cases of great interest to women have been tried in the English law courts, and each, curiously enough, turned upon the employment of arsenic. The first of these appeared to be of the gravest importance when sensationally headed, "Poisoned Dress Linings," but on coming to read the case as tried in the Croydon county court it is most reassuring to find that, although arsenic is employed in certain green linings and other linings, it is in such small quantities as to be perfectly harmless to wearers and workers alike. In order for the system of a wearer of the arsenically prepared linings or for that of a worker on the material to absorb an injurious dose of the poison, no less than 80 yards would have to be handled or worn, which practically amounts to saying that green dress linings are absolutely harmless.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June 1894, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Balm. I at this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave and now I consider that I am entirely cured. GIVES STRENGTH TO MEN

Free To All Who Are Weak And Worn

A METHOD TO CURE AND INCREASE THE POWER.

It is a remarkable fact that a man never appreciates the sufferings of others until he himself has passed through the fire of pain or remorse. Then it is that he looks around for those who are suffering; he wants them to profit by his experience; he gives his time and money gladly for the benefit of others and never tires of his zeal. There are plenty of men weak and worn out, struggling with remorse and fear, the natural outcome of habits that brought incapacity; a sense of loneliness and a feeling as if the best side of life had been banished forever. Such men should write to Thomas Slater, Box 494, Kalamazoo, Mich. He will send free by mail, in a plain, sealed envelope, full particulars about the method he used, and this will enable any man to get a complete cure at home. It is the method that Mr. Slater used to cure himself of the troubles that sap the strength and vigor and also enlarged his organs to natural size. The cure was complete, so satisfying and such a wonderful change from his former condition that he will gladly tell others all about it, sending all particulars. He figures that he doesn't know of a better way to show his appreciation of his own cure and sufferings of others. There must be generous men in this world to offset the tide of avarice. Write to Mr. Slater—it will cost nothing for his description and method.

CHAPTER VI.

THE HAPPENINGS DOWN HANCE'S TRAIL.

Miss Cullen was sitting on a rock apart from her brother and Hance, as I had asked her to do when I helped her dismount. I went over there and said boldly:

"Miss Cullen, I want those letters."

"What letters?" she asked, looking me in the eyes with the most innocent of expressions. She made a mistake to do that, for I knew her innocence was feigned and so didn't put much faith in her face for the rest of the interview.

"And what is more," I said, with a firmness of manner about as genuine as her innocence, "unless you will produce them I shall have to search you."

"Mr. Gordon!" she exclaimed. But she put such surprise and grief and disbelief into the four syllables that I wanted the earth to swallow me then and there.

"Why, Miss Cullen," I cried, "look at my position. I'm being paid to do certain things, and—"

"But that needn't prevent your being a gentleman," she interrupted.

That made me almost desperate. "Miss Cullen," I said hurriedly, "I'd rather be burned alive than do what I've got to, but if you won't give me those letters search you I must."

"But how can I give you what I haven't?" she cried indignantly, assuming again her innocent expression.

"Will you give me your word of honor that those letters are not concealed in your clothes?"

"I will," she said.

I was very much taken aback, for it would have been so easy for Miss Cullen to have said that before that I had become convinced she must have them.

"And do you give me your word?"

"I do," she affirmed. But she didn't look me in the face as she said it.

I ought to have been satisfied, but I wasn't, for in spite of her denial something forced me still to believe she had

Miss Cullen was sitting on a rock, then, and looking back now, I think it was her manner. I stood reflecting for a minute and then said, "Please stay where you are for a moment." Leaving her, I went over to Fred.

"Mr. Cullen," I said, "Miss Cullen, rather than be searched, has acknowledged that she has the letters and says that if we men will go into the hut she'll get them for me."

He rose at once. "I told my father not to drag her in," he muttered sadly. "I don't care about myself, Mr. Gordon, but can't you keep her out of it? She's as innocent of any real wrong as the day she was born."

"I'll do everything in my power," I promised. Then he and Hance went into the cabin, and I walked back to the culprit.

"Miss Cullen," I said gravely, "you have those letters and must give them to me."

"But I told you—she began.

To spare her a second untruth I interrupted her by saying, "I trapped your brother into acknowledging that you have them."

"You must have misunderstood him," she said calmly, "or else he didn't know that the arrangement was changed."

Her steadiness rather shook my conviction, but I said, "You must give me those letters or I must search you."

"You never would!" she cried, rising and looking me in the face.

On impulse I tried a bluff. I took hold of the lapel of her waist, intending to undo one button. I let go in fright when I found there was no button—only an awful complication of hooks or some other feminine method for keeping things together—and I grew red and trembled, thinking what might have happened had I, by bad luck, made anything come undone. If Miss Cullen had been noticing me, she would have seen a terribly scared man.

But she wasn't, luckily, for the moment my hand touched her, and before she could realize that I snatched it away, she collapsed on the rock and burst into tears. "Oh, oh!" she sobbed. "I begged papa not to, but he insisted they were safest with me. I'll give them to you if you'll only go away and not—"

Her tears made her inarticulate, and, without waiting for more, I ran into the hut, feeling as near like a murderer as a guiltless man could.

Lord Ralles was swearing over his trousers by this time and was offering the cowboy and Hance money to recover them. When they told him this was impossible, he tried to get them to sell or hire a pair, but they didn't like the idea of riding into camp minus those essentials any better than he did. While I waited they settled the difficulty by strapping a blanket round him, and, by splitting it up the middle and using plenty of cord, they rigged him out after a fashion, but I think if he could have seen himself he would have waited till it was dark enough to creep into camp unnoticed.

Before long Miss Cullen called, and when I went to her she handed me, without a word, three letters. As she did so she crimsoned violently and looked down in her mortification. I was so sorry for her that, though a moment before I had been judging her harshly, I now couldn't help saying:

"Our positions have been so difficult, Miss Cullen, that I don't think we either of us are quite responsible for our actions."

She said nothing, and, after a pause, I continued:

"I hope you'll think as leniently of my conduct as you can, for I can't tell you how grieved I am to have pained you."

Cullen joined us at this point, and knowing that every moment we remained would be distressing to his sister I said we would start up the trail. I hadn't the heart to offer to help her mount, and after Frederic had put her up we fell into single file behind Hance, Lord Ralles coming last.

As soon as we were started I took a look at the three letters. They were all addressed to Theodore E. Camp, Esq., Ash Forks, A. T., one of the directors of the K. and A. and also of the Great Southern. For the first time things began to clear up to me. When the trail broadened enough to permit it, I pushed my mule up alongside of Cullen and asked:

"The letters contain proxies for the K. and A. election next Friday?"

He nodded his head. "The Missouri Western and the Great Southern are fighting for control," he explained, "and we should have won but for three blocks of eastern stock that had prom-

I told the sheriff that I had recovered the lost property.

used their proxies to the G. S. Rather than lose the fight we arranged to learn when those proxies were mailed—that was what kept me behind—and then to hold up the train that carried them."

"Was it worth the risk?" I asked.

"If we had succeeded, yes. My father had put more than was safe into Missouri Western and into California Central. The G. S. wants control to end the traffic agreements, and that means bankruptcy to my father."

I nodded, seeing it all as clear as day and hardly blaming the Cullens for what they had done, for any one who has had dealings with the G. S. is driven to pretty desperate methods to keep from being crushed. And when one is fighting an antagonist that won't regard the law, or rather one that, through control of legislatures and judges, makes the law to suit its needs, the temptation is strong to use the same weapons oneself.

"The toughest part of it is," Fred went on, "that we thought we had the whole thing 'hands down,' and that was what made my father go in so deep. Only the death of one of the M. W. directors, who held 8,000 shares of K. and A., got us in this hole, for the G. S. put up a relative to contest the will, and so delayed the obtaining of letters of administration, blocking his executors from giving a proxy. It was as mean a trick as ever was played."

"The G. S. is a tough customer to fight," I said, and asked, "Why didn't you burn the letters?" really wishing they had done so.

"We feared duplicate proxies might get through in time and thought that by keeping these we might cook up a question as to which were legal, and then by injunction prevent the use of either."

"And those Englishmen," I asked, "are they real?"

"Oh, certainly," he said. "They were visiting my brother and thought the whole thing great larks." Then he told me how the thing had been done. They had sent Miss Cullen to my car so as to get me out of the way, though she hadn't known it. Then he and his brother got off the train at the last stop, with the guns and masks, and concealed themselves on the platform of the mail car. Here they had been joined by the Britishers at the right moment, the disguises assumed, and the train held up, as already told. Of course the dynamite cartridge was only a blind, and the letters had been thrown about the car merely to confuse the clerk. Then, while Frederic Cullen, with the letters, had stolen back to the car the two Englishmen had crept back to where they had stood. Here, as had been arranged, they opened fire, which Albert Cullen duly returned, and then joined them. "I don't see how you spotted us," Frederic ended.

I told him, and his disgust was amusing to see. "Going to Oxford may be all right for the classics," he growled, "but it's destructive to gumption."

We rode into camp a pretty gloomy crowd, and those of the party waiting for us there were not much better. But when Lord Ralles dismounted and showed up in his substitute for trousers there was a general shout of laughter. Even Miss Cullen had to laugh for a moment. And as his lordship bolted for his tent I said to myself, "Honors are even."

I told the sheriff that I had recovered the lost property, but did not think any arrests necessary as yet. And as he was the agent of the K. and A. at Flagstaff he didn't question my opinion. I ordered the stage out and told Tolfree to give us a feed before we started. But a more silent meal I never sat down to, and I noticed that Miss Cullen didn't eat anything, while the tragic look on her face was so pathetic as nearly to drive me frantic.

We started a little after 5 and were clear of the timber before it was too dark to see. At the relay station we waited an hour for the moon, after which it was a clear track. We reached the half way ranch about 11, and while changing the stage horses I roused Mrs. Klostermeyer and succeeded in getting enough cold mutton and bread to make two rather decent looking sandwiches. With these and a glass of whisky and water, I went to the stage, to find Miss Cullen curled up on the seat asleep, her head resting in her brother's arms.

"She has nearly worried herself to death ever since you told her that road agents were hung," Frederic whispered, "and she's been crying tonight over that lie she told you, and, altogether, she's worn out with travel and excitement."

I screwed the cover on the traveling glass and put it with the sandwiches in the bottom of the stage. "It's a long and a rough ride," I said, "and if she wakes up they may give her a little strength. I only wish I could have spared her the fatigue and anxiety."

"She thought she had to lie for father's sake, but she's nearly broken hearted over it," he continued.

I looked Frederic in the face and said, "I honor her for it," and in that moment he and I became friends.

"Just see how pretty she is!" he said, with evident affection and pride, turning back the flap of the rug in which she was wrapped.

She was breathing gently, and there was just that touch of weariness and sadness in her face that would appeal to any man. It made me gulp, I'm proud to say. And when I was back on my pony, I said to myself, "For her sake, I'll pull the Cullens out of this scrape if it costs me my position."

Notable Values in Ready-Made Skirts, Silk and Velvet Capes and Wash Goods.

The backward season has thrown thousands of dollars' worth of such merchandise on the market at prices positively less than the cost of manufacture, and the result of Mr. Reid's visit to the market the past week will be found in some of the best offerings of the whole season. Several cases of Wash Goods are among the arrivals and there are many new things among them never seen before.

"Nanola Dimity." Light and dark grounds, including black and white. Sixty pieces of one of the best fabrics produced; width 26 inches; patterns all new. Your guess at the price would say a shilling; but you would have to guess again, for it's 5c.

Fine Organzaies (dimity) and Nainsooks The very newest designs and colorings in a large range of styles; mid-season novelties that are different from the ordinary run. Values as never before--per yard, 10c. Width, 30 inches.

CAPES are necessary for evening wear all summer. To own one of ours is easy; the new line is at half price and less. One of velvet is silk lined, has lace ruche and is embroidered in colors. Twenty of them are offered at $2 87; another of velvet with ribbon ruche, novelty silk lining, is $3.50. One with Empire plait in the back, wide collar of velvet, brocade silk lining, ribbon ruche--$4.00, others up to $7.50. All the above Capes are in black only. Colored Capes are cheaper yet, next to nothing prices.

Silk and Sicilian Skirts. Large patterns are the favorites and this new line displays some handsome designs. They are tailor-made cut full width, well lined and are positive bargains at the prices,--$2 1/2, $3, $4, $4 1/2, $5, up to $7 1/2 for the silk brocades of ten and twelve dollar values.
